

3.4

```
SALES <- read.table("SALES.TXT",header=T)
Sales <- ts(SALES$Sales,frequency=12, start=1970)
```

```
plot(Sales,main="Sales")
```

```
#logarithmic transformation
sales = log(Sales)
plot(sales,main="LogSales")
```

```
#removing trend using differences operator
noTrendSales = diff(sales, differences = 1) plot(noTrendSales, ylab = "Sales",main="LogSales, trend removed")
```

```
#removing seasonality with lag. Using lag = 12 because the data is monthly noTrendNoSeasonalitySales = diff(noTrendSales, lag = 12) plot(noTrendNoSeasonalitySales, ylab = "Sales", main="LogSales, trend and seasonality removed")
```

```
#stl gives us a nice representation of different components
stlSales = stl(sales, s.window="periodic") plot(stlSales)
```

Plots below!

Sales

LogSales

LogSales, trend removed

LogSales, trend and seasonality removed

